Description

The starting point of this difficult tour is the car park at the Unterbergbahn valley station. The route runs on the wide forest road for approx. 3.5 km on a steep incline through wooded areas. The route then winds its way with a moderate gradient across alpine pastureland to the Scheibnwald hut. This is followed by another steep climb before the trail flattens out in hairpin bends to the Unterbergalm. To reach the destination - the Bärenhütte - a last steep stretch awaits the biker.
