Description

The starting point for this Bichlach tour is Oberndorf in Tirol. Here we follow the main road out of town towards Kitzbühel. We join the main road at the end for short distance before turning right towards Schmiedboden, just after the quarry. At the next fork we keep to the left, and follow the asphalt road up towards Hasenberg. At the first bend we turn right onto a gravel road into the forest towards Gieringer Weiher. Following this gravel path you climb up a short, steep stretch and turn left again onto an asphalt road. At the next junction we take a sharp right towards Rettenberg. After the farm, the asphalt road comes to an end and we follow the steep path uphill into the forest. The path then goes across a field, past a farm and down a short gravel stretch to another paved road. We turn right onto the road, and after another ascent, then turn left towards Brantl, Grutten. At Brantlhof, take the dirt road into the forest towards Grutten and follow the gravel path uphill to Gruttenhof. From here follow the asphalt road back down towards Oberndorf where the tour started.
