Description

From the valley station of the Bichlalm you can comfortably take the double chair lift to the top station at almost 1,600 meters. The Bichlalm area is in an exposed location away from the regular ski operation and is particularly well known and popular with ski tourers and freeriders. The Berggasthof BichlAlm is located directly next to the exit of the chair lift, where the start of the winter hike is located. Follow the marked route towards Stuckkogel. On the way up you should always look over your shoulder and enjoy the view of the Kitzbüheler Südberge, the Resterhöhe and the Pengelstein. After a walk of over an hour you reach the summit of the Stuckkogel at 1,888 meters, where you can enjoy a wonderful panoramic view. The same route takes you back to the BichlAlm, enjoy a long refreshment stop before the Bichlalm chairlift takes you comfortably back to the valley.

Note: If you want to walk the summit in all snow conditions, you should pack crampons, because the last part of the summit path towards the Stuckkogel might be smooth and slippery due to snow drifts.
