Description

For a hundred years, since 1919 to be precise, customers have been spoiled with the finest sausage products, pithy Tyrolean bacon and tasty smoked game specialities. The family business still produces according to the old recipes of the grandfather, because the results are still popular. Of course, many new products and ideas are also created. When it comes to good taste, tradition and modernity are not a contradiction, but a perfect combination. Mastercard is accepted.
