Description

The Seidlalm is one of the famous spots in Kitzbühel, after all, this is the birthplace of the Ski World Cup. Starting point is the valley station of the Hahnenkammbahn. From here it goes to the beginning over asphalt into the Hausbergtal. At a fork we keep left. Here we follow the signpost to Einsiedelei. Only over an asphalt, then gravel road and then over a short, steep trail. At the hermitage you can stop in and have a good look over Kitzbühel. From there, at the barrier, we turn right onto the forest road and follow the signs to Seidlalm. Only at the beginning it goes over the forest road, then on a trail. From the Seidlalm back into the city we walk over the Streif hiking trail to the valley station.
