

Sintersbach Trail

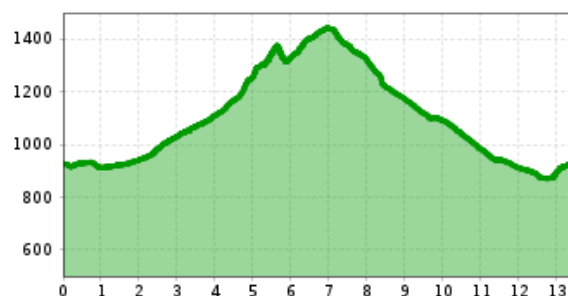

distance	13,2 km	difficulty	average
----------	---------	------------	---------

altitude meters uphill	741 m	highest point	1444 m
------------------------	-------	---------------	--------

starting point:	Wagstättbahn
-----------------	--------------

Altitude profile

Description

A very special attraction is the Sintersbacher waterfall in Jochberg. Especially for snowmelt it is very impressive. He is super nice to run. We start at the Wagstättbahn southbound and turn right across the street into a village street. This leads us into the valley floor where we turn on a meadow path to the right to the parking Schradler. From there, head towards Sintersbacher Wasserfall via the so-called Drachenweg. A very well developed trail, which runs beautifully. It always goes along the stream until we turn left in a wooded area to the waterfall. Directly below the waterfall we cross the stream and continue towards Wildalm. Everything continues on beautiful trails. Just before the Wildalm awaits us a short gravel roads section. Shortly after the Wildalm but left another beautiful trail follows back towards Jochberg. We walk past the Taxerkapelle and the swimming pool Jochberg before we come back to the house at the Culture House and walk back along the road to the Wagstättbahn.

arrival

Parking spot
Parking Schradlern

hut/alpine hut

Jochberger Wildalm closed

downloads

GPX FILE

INTERACTIVE MAP